18th MOISA RESEARCH SEMINAR ON ANCIENT GREEK & ROMAN MUSIC
Lecce, 1-5 July 2024

The Musical Culture of Megalē Hellas and Sicily:
Theories, Performances, Instruments, and Places

The Moisa Research Seminar is a week-long seminar on Ancient Greek and Roman Music that, since 2004, has been attended by students and scholars from several European, American, and Asian countries.

From 1st to 5th July 2024 the Seminar will be organised by the Department of Cultural Heritage of the University of Salento and it will take place in Lecce, Italy (with the possibility to follow the event also in streaming). Following the customary format (originated in Corfu and then moved for some years to Riva del Garda and Bressanone/Brixen), the programme will consist of morning sessions, devoted to the study of a particular text and topic, as well as afternoon and evening lectures on other issues of interest.

The 18th Moisa Seminar will focus on the musical civilisation of Southern Italy and Sicily, which will be addressed from the standpoints of archaeology, music theory, organology, and literature. The morning lectures will be delivered by:

Marco Ercoles (Università di Bologna)
Adelaide Fongoni (Università della Calabria)
John Franklin (University of Vermont)
Angelo Meriani (Università di Salerno)
Sylvain Perrot (CNRS Strasbourg)
Antonietta Provenza (Università di Palermo)

The afternoon and evening lectures will provide an overview of the most recent developments in the field of Ancient Greek and Roman Music and its cultural heritage, as well as a chance to improve current projects thanks to the feedback and questions of the audience. They will be delivered by:

Daniela Castaldo (Università del Salento)
Alessandra Manieri (Università del Salento)
Massimo Raffa (Università del Salento)
Susanna Sarti (Soprintendenza archeologica della Toscana)

Both morning and evening sessions will take place at the University of Salento, Studium 2000 building, Via di Valesio, 73100 Lecce.

It will be also possible to attend the seminar online via Teams.
